

Letter of Recommendation for Temi Ajibewa as a Speaker

Good day,

My name is Temi Ajibewa a savvy and passionate personal development consultant and business coach from Nigeria.

I am a 2 time Amazon Bestselling author, Certified John Maxwell DISC Trainer, Results Coach, NLP Practitioner, Peak Performance Consultant, and a Firewalker at the Tony Robbins Unleash The Power Within Conference.

I am the founder of She Ignites Africa, a social enterprise initiative empowering women through mentoring, training and coaching with subsidiary brands like The Millionaire Housewife Hub, a foremost edu-tech platform in Africa, designed to help women launch and grow successful businesses from home by leveraging on the internet, and Girls Ignite Africa, a movement designed to transform young girls mind through mentoring sessions that prepare them to contribute to Africa's greatness.

I greatly admire the selflessness of Effective Altruism Global as a platform which seeks to foster a noble and impactful cause of making helping people an integral part of your affairs.

It is quite commendable that you deliberately seek to benefit others through the co-ordination of global projects leveraging technology. I think you have done well to offer succour to as many as you have touched. Your impact would be felt for generations to come.

As an avid supporter of women, I'm deeply committed to and is indeed of great interest to me to reach as many women as possible all over the world with my transformational message that centres around Self Mastery, Personal Branding, Entrepreneurship, Emotional Intelligence, Mentoring and Wealth Creation.

This is why I write to offer you my speaking services in support of your upcoming programme for free. I mean the event holding on the 8th and 9th of March, 2020 in Dubai titled : A Celebration of Women Entrepreneurship: An International Perspective.

I'm reaching out to you today in the hopes of bringing an international perspective and dynamic visionary impact into this seminar as it resonates succinctly with my message.

In Nigeria, I was awarded the Business Coach of the Year 2018, Coach of the Year 2019 and The Guardian Woman in February 2020 for my contribution to the industry and womanhood as a whole.

I'm hoping you'd be interested in extending your reach to a wider audience thereby increasing your brand and project awareness.

My proposed topic is Personal Brand Management for the 21st Century Woman and I would be happy to share my topic outline with you at your earliest convenience.

Kindly note that though I am based in Nigeria, you won't have to worry about my travel (ticket) or visa as I'm happy to make it to the event on my own cost.

My post about your program and indeed EA Global as a whole would reach my entire personal audience as I'll be happy to share my experience on social media where I have a combined reach of over 85,000 followers.

Thank you for taking the time to read this email and I welcome the possibility of discussing this opportunity further in person over the phone.

Best regards,

Temí Ajibewa
